WHY WE'RE DIFFERENT

At Four we drive positive outcomes by blending data-driven insight, creativity and deep sector knowledge, delivered through digital-first integrated marketing and communications services locally, nationally and internationally.

From the beginning, we wanted to create something special – a truly integrated agency that could compete against the large networks but was independent and entrepreneurial in spirit and in practice.

Ambitious and talented people thrive at Four and we have removed many of the barriers to career development and promotion.

Beautiful things happen when you put the right ingredients together.

INDUSTRY-LEADING FLEXIBLE WORKING

We've introduced a flexible working policy accross all locations and offices

Our flexible working policy is one of the most forward-looking in the industry, designed to balance what is best for both staff and our clients. Across all offices and locations we give staff the ability to decide where they work for much of their week.

To ensure we retain the best levels of teamwork and on-the-job learning we ask staff to be 'on-site' either in our office, with a client or at an event for at least two days a week. One of those days is spent as a team day in the office for meetings, brainstorms, planning and catch-ups.

For the rest of the week staff can work from any location unless they have other face-to-face commitments such as client meetings and events, team meetings or training.

CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

We know how important personal development is to each and every one of us.

At Four, we have an impressive internal and external training programme, which gives everyone the opportunity to learn from each other as well as from outside sources.

We have also invested in LinkedIn Learning and after your probationary period, you will automatically be signed up to your own account, which means you are able to choose what you'd like to learn about for personal development and your role at Four.

We believe that continuous improvement is the way to stay one step ahead of the game.

A DIVERSE COMMUNITY

We are proud of our community at Four and are committed to reflecting the world in which we live.

We are great believers in diversity – across age, gender, sexuality and ethnic background – and also across the way we think and act.

If you are familiar with Insights Discovery training (which we all do at Four), you'll also find a healthy mix of Fiery Reds, Sunshine Yellows, Earth Greens and Cool Blues.

We do everything we can to ensure we are a responsible business so we are always aware of how we impact on society, the environment and everyone we work with.

OUR RACE EQUALITY PLEDGE

We have created a Race Equality Pledge, spearheaded by our Four Race Equality staff group and supported by the directors.

- Our commitments include publishing our diversity data every six months
- We have set three year targets for representation in the agency
- Applications sent by HR to teams for review include 'blind' CVs and covering letters
- We aim to ensure that at least 30% of candidates invited to our graduate days are from diverse backgrounds.

- We believe that everyone should be able to communicate openly, express themselves unencumbered and be themselves without fear of judgement, bias or discrimination.
- Four is a place where ideas are encouraged, talent is nurtured and success blooms.

We want to play our part in helping to eradicate racism in the UK and offer equal opportunities to people from all backgrounds.

LET'S HEAR FROM SOME OF OUR STAFF

“

I love being surrounded by great talent and getting the chance to be involved in memorable and iconic campaigns. Four moves with the times. They understand that hybrid working is the new norm and have embraced it fully!

- Zeeshan Rashid

“

My favourite thing about Four is the opportunities through the work we do; there is always something new, something you've never done before, great experiences and chances to meet new people. Practically some of my favourite things are the free herbs from the lobby and the bar evenings. I also like the freedom given to staff groups, I'm a part of Four Race Equality and I think it's great we get to set our own tone and decide on the things we want to do as a group with the wider company.

- Titilope Ogunnaike

“

What I love is the variety of people I've got to meet at Four, the awesome events and opportunities I get to embrace in my role and the clubs.

- Claire Stokes

“

I love our new offices. Great views and loads of outdoor space. I'm really excited to host clients and invite them to our events. The Thursday bar is my favourite – it gives new starters such a great opportunity to meet everyone else!

“

Working at Four is crazy good. Once Four commits to an idea, they go out of their way to help – however they can. The number one thing for me though, is that you can be yourself, not only with your team but with the whole company.

- Argyris Gabriel

“

Working at Four has allowed me to explore and develop in a supportive and empowering work environment. I feel valued for who I am and really enjoy working with a diverse group of passionate people, where everyone is encouraged.

- Paloma Medina

“

Four is a fantastic place to work and grow. Since joining, I've moved from a reception role to health operations manager and I really love what I do. The culture is incredible. One of my favourite things is the work Four does with charities and the local community.

- Eimear Allen

“

My favourite thing about working at Four is the wide range of creative briefs. Every day is different, one day we are shooting a luxury fashion campaign on a rooftop and the next day we are designing logos for a sustainability brand.

- Tulsi Varsani
